Hours to Keep

The 1993 Shepherd Hill yearbook, HOURS TO KEEP, is the first book in our 20 year history that includes not only events from this school year, but also events from past years.

The Class of 1993 started out as two separate groups, one from Charlton and one from Dudley. Throughout the past six years we have united as one. As a result of OUR time spent together as a class we have included events from Elementary school to events from OUR senior year.

Not only have we united as a class, we have also united as a school. The 1993 yearbook is an example of our "UNITY" here at Shepherd Hill.

The theme "HOURS TO KEEP" reflects upon OUR time spent together as a school. The time spent at Shepherd Hill will always be remembered by these students.

The yearbook serves as a keepsake of "HOURS TO KEEP" at Shepherd Hill.

Hours to Keep

This issue of Country Roads, entitled "Hours to Keep", marks a historical occasion in the way our yearbook was produced. The entire layout was computer generated using a MacIntosh with state of the art software. The purchase of the computer was funded by our advertisers both last year and this year.

This book represents endless hours of work and dedication by the entire yearbook staff.

YEARBOOK

This year, we the Class of 1993, found ourselves in a dilemma when we had selected two people equally deserving of the honor of having the yearbook dedicated to them. After many hours of indecision we are proud to break with tradition and dedicate the 1993 edition of Country Roads to the both of them. To Mrs. Adele Davis and Mrs. Mary Hencinski, we honor you with this 20th anniversary issue of our yearbook.

Mrs. Adele Davis

Mrs. Davis began teaching in 1958 where she taught at Duldley Junior High School. She then came to Shepherd Hill when it opened in 1973, where she dedicated herself to her teaching profession until she retired last year at the age of 82. We, the Senior Class, have found inspiration in knowing such a dedicated teacher, who found the courage to teach when others her age simply retired. We honor you with this dedication.

DEDICATION

Mrs. Mary Hencinski

Mrs. Hencinski worked as Guidance Dept. secretary since Shepherd Hill opened in 1973. She has seen thousands of graduating seniors off to college since that time. Many scheduling conflicts she has attended to with a grace and an attitude that demonstrated her love for kids. The Class of '93 feels fortunate to have known Mrs. Hencinski even though she has left before us. We wish you well in your retirement... Thank you for all you have done.

Forever Our's ...

The Class of 93 leaves Shepherd Hill with a sad memory that brought us closer together. This memory was the short life of Billy Smith who was a great friend to everyone he knew.

Billy was the type of person everyone admired. He tried his hardest to be the best at everything he did, whether it was making his parents proud, playing sports or being a good friend. He was unselfish; if you needed help he would put things aside to help you out.

If you were down in the dumps Billy would do his best to bring your spirits up. He could always make you crack a smile on the worst of days. Billy was never afraid to say or show how he felt. He was always there to tell you what he really thought instead of what you wanted to hear. Billy also knew when you needed a hug, I know, there missed by a lot of us.

Billy won't be graduating with our class this year but he will always be part of it. To this day he is loved and missed greatly. If you're ever feeling down and need cheering up, think of Billy and all the memories he gave us.

Senior Class Prophesy

There comes a time in every senior's life when it is finally time to decide what direction to take, out in the real world. I, myself, was pondering this, one very rainy day. I found myself driving around with absolutely nothing to do. Suddenly, out of the corner of my eye, I saw a sign. It was amazing that I had actually seen the sign, because it was so small and faded. As I squinted, the words presented themselves to me: "Madame Zelda's Fortune Telling, OPEN". I turned the car around and pulled down the narrow driveway next to the sign. I was a bit skeptical as to what this "Madame Zelda" could actually tell me, but I was desperate to find out what I would do after graduation. My eyes caught sight of a little house at the end of the driveway. It was rather small and extremely run down. The paint, which was cream-colored, was peeled and flaking. The faded black shutters swung in the wind. I turned my car off and got out. I ran up the worn steps and knocked on the door. Almost as soon as my fist touched the door, it flew wide open. A very curious-looking woman peered out from within. Her hair was raven-black, as were her eyes. She smiled a knowing smile. Then she spoke.

"Come in, my dear," she purred, "I've been expecting you".

Yeah, right, I thought. I was sure that was a common line among gypsies and witch doctors. I looked around the room. There were candles and incense burning about the room. As she closed the door behind me, I shivered. She took my coat and bade me to sit down.

"Wait a minute", I said abruptly, "How much is this going to cost?".

The woman looked at me and laughed a hearty laugh.

"That comes later", she said, "Now...about you!".

She produced what I took to be a crystal ball. This is so cheesy, I thought. The crystal ball, however, soon grew cloudy and purple.

"Well, Erica, I see that you are in great doubt about your future.", she said.

My skin grew pale. I decided to listen to what she had to say.

"Many of your friends and classmates have much the same doubting that you do", she said, in an accent that sounded remotely fake. "But I see for them great things", she said. So began her prophecy.

"I see a newspaper...yes, a newspaper. Perhaps, even, the New York Times. I see two editors who are very interested in publicizing opinions. I believe their names are Kevin Morin and Dan Galante. I see the copy write is Jen Miller. Tiffany Bachand and Courtney Mrozeck are on the layout staff. I foresee Kris Marier having his own comic strip in this paper. On the Best Seller List I see Craig Becker's 'My life Coaching the Bears', Sean Vasas's '50 Ways to Better Posture', Amy Bergeron's 'Silence is Golden', and Jaime Vicker's 'How to Raise an Allergy Free Child'. I see, too that Brandi Vizard and Kristie Nowicki will be advice columnists for the paper." This was quite a revelation, but I listened on.

"Now, I see an entirely different scene. I see celebrities in your class. I see a tribute concert for Bob Marley, with John Milestone and Matt Cormier singing lead. I see, also, hip-hop star Jose' Garcia with his best dancer, Edgar Lubecki and his choreographer Amy Leblanc. On a different stage, I see broadway star Kirk Maraglia performing in front of scenery created by Jeff Davis. I see a totally different kind of performer. I see punk star Zach Driscoll performing in front of hundreds of drooling and lovestruck fans. I see, also Janine Giustina producing a record for guitarists Mike O'Shea and Brad Rambarran. I see Jason Hanson will be the manager for an English grunge band. I also see Carey Paterson, the famous and exotic night club singer, talking to Erin Parmenter, the reowned ballerina. Now, I see Matt Howard, Doctor of Music, discussing theory with Cindy Bussiere, the famous mallet player." Here she stopped to catch her breath.

"I now see some very athletic people in your class. I see Ryan Eldredge, of the Boston Celtics, playing against Shawn Noel, of the L.A. Lakers. I see Jeff Niemic playing against Mike Mandelenakis in a Wimbledon tournament. I see Kristen Kittredge sitting in the stands with her husband Andre Agassi. Elsewhere, I see Tara Nawrocki and Tara Meagher practicing for Olympic soccer in Kelly Parent's extensive apple orchard. I also see Ron Suprenant playing baseball for the L.A. Dodgers, under the management of Steve Smith. I see Amy Yurick training for the Boston Marathon with her coach, Melissa Tobias, and Marianne Faron training for Olympic Track and Field with her husband Chris Sroczenski. I foresee Joel MacFarland, the new Baseball commissioner talking to sports announcers John Jarzabski and Steve Sullivan. I also see the future coach for Notre Dame football team, Jason Perron, talking to his sports therapist Scott Stone and the athletic department coordinator for Notre Dame, Derek Koziak. I see Brian Pecore, Bobby Bousquet and Bobby Dutting, playing football for the Chicago Bears against Jeff MacNamara, Jeremy Sherwood and Robert Houle of the San Francisco 49ers. Tonia Rousseau and Renee Montville are cheering on the sidelines. I see, also the wrestling star 'Captain T.J.', who is none other than T.J. Payton, dicussing his match with his manager Eric Daniels. Jason Morgan and David O'Connor are testing equipment out for Tara Beshiri's athletic equipment store."

"But what about me?", I asked, impatiently.

"You'll know soon enough", she said.

I relaxed a little, but wanted to know more about my own future.

"Anyway", she continued, "There are many creative people in your class, also. I see Mony Houatchanthara designing paint brushes for the famous artist, Amy Moore, who paints a striking portrait of Tracey Vanderhoof which replaces the 'Mona Lisa' in the Louvre. I see that Dina Godzik will be the new interior decorator for Robert Smith and his second wife, Beth Lauritsen. I see, also that Kristen Geanis and Karrie Linkevich opening heir own fashion design line with Lori Demers as their model and Jen Dutting s their fashion consultant. I see Katie Funkel's modeling agency with models ke Heidi Peek and Lynn Strzelewicz, he photographer." Then, she stopped.

"Oh I also see a number of dedicated rofessionals in your class," she said.

I laughed at this thought, but let her ontinue.

"I see Kevin Freund buying the 'Hard ock Cafe' chain from Jason Abysalh nd Kelly Paquin owning a string of casi-os and hotels in Las Vegas. I see, also, rin Fitzgerald, the producer of CNN scussing news with Laura Starczewski e star anchorwoman. I also see Steven Faubert owning a paint company, that supplies Gilbert Hayes and Brian White's construction company. Kerry Frenier's contact lens company sells lenses to Patty Wood's cosmetic company. Lisa Liberty, Michelle Aucoin and Kristie Vincelette are her top salespeople." She paused, yet again.

"There are also members of your class whose interests lie outside of the workforce. Melissa Sepos will be the new chairman of the 'Walden Woods Foundation' and Neil Trahan with Michelle Zamis will organize a benefit concert to raise money. I see Tom Desantos and Mike Nichols collecting valuable antiques. I see Lisa Plouffe becoming the new chairman of the MSPCA and Crystal Bryant will be a civil rights activist. I see Gayle Brunner tending to the dogs she breeds while Julie Pelletier rides the horses she breeds. I see, also Stephanie Hequembourg, the marine biologist, proving the existence of the Loch Ness Monster. I see, also, Andy Poandl, the poet, becoming roommates with Stephan Nelson the musician, and his manager, Shawn Clark. I see Sarah Drake marrying a prominent member of the Charlton police force. I see Dawn Nicholopoulos moving to England and marrying a musician and Ellie-Jo Sendrowski moving to Spain with Mindy Ryan. I see Shawn Remillard and John Note becoming local wood sculptors. I also see Robert Leary and Melanie Gatzke getting married and living next to Rhonda Hewey and Jonathan O'Brien, who are registry cops. I also see Marie Keegan marrying an executive who blesses her twelve children, and jets around the world in planes from Vickie Mannion's airline, flown by Erin Mancini.

I also see Carolyn Szilagyi and Amie Pariseau being roomates for a very long time. I see Kelly Condrate becoming a wealthy widow who hires Tim Russell to drive her limo. I see Shaina Guerin collecting recipes for a cookbook she is writing with Jenifer Nauman. I also see two future policemen; Jason Delaney and Ronald Zachek. I see Rebekah Johnson making her own line of original accessories. I also forsee Micheal Donald opening a pet store with Denis Cooper. I see Jason Champney and David Duby becoming investors in the real estate market."

"There are also students in your class who will have futures in government. I see Pete Beck, the Supreme Court Justice talking with Matt Shilale, the ambassador to Japan and Ami Acharya, the ambassador to India. I see Lena Svensson, Andrea Bierch, and Pawel Ucher developing a cultural awareness program in the U.S. Congress with Congressman Kirk Mailloux. I see Jill Derry and Mark Cruz covering a political scandal in Washington D.C. Stephen Theriault and Leonard Zurowski are the stenographers in a huge trial and Jeff Brousseau is the prosecuting attorney".

"Now, finally, I will get to you, Erica", she said.

Just then the telephone rang. Madame Zelda jumped and I figured that she didn't get many phone calls. As she leapt to answer the phone, her leg swiped the table, causing the crystal ball to go toppling off the table and hit the floor with a crash.

"Oh, Saints alive!", she cried, "look at what I've done!".

"Can you still use it?", I asked anxiously.

"Gracious, No!", she wailed, "it's useless now! I'm so sorry, Erica!".

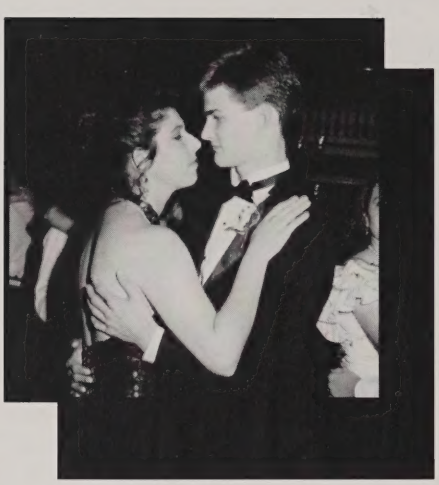
"That's okay", I mumbled.

It was just my luck for bad luck to strike, just as things were going smoothly for me.

"Perhaps it's better that I don't know my future", I said. "After all, your future is what you make it!".

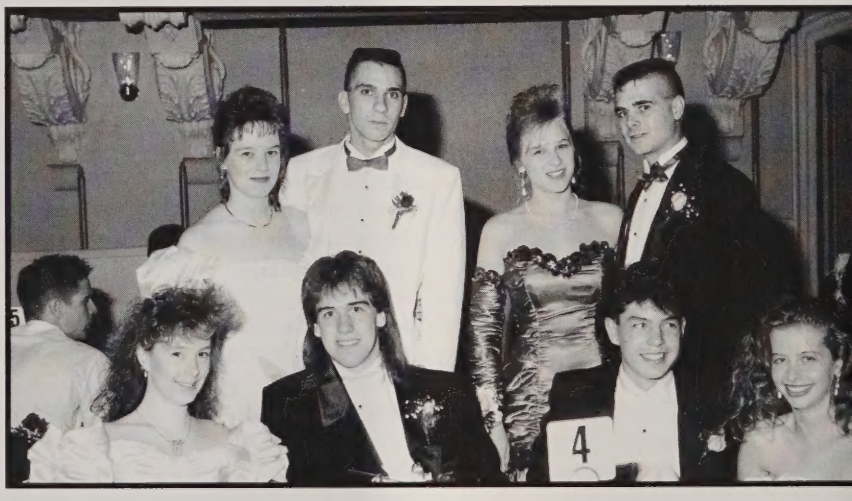
Good Luck Guys,

Erica Pennella



a Touch of Class

The 1992 Junior-Senior Prom was held at Mechanics Hall in Worcester. The theme was "a Touch of Class" and the song was "Classic Girl". The prom was a great success and enjoyed by all who attended.



13

The 1992 Victory Dance was sponsored by the Senior Student Council. " A Night to Remember" was the theme and "Wonderful Tonight" our song. Aproximately 150 couples attended.

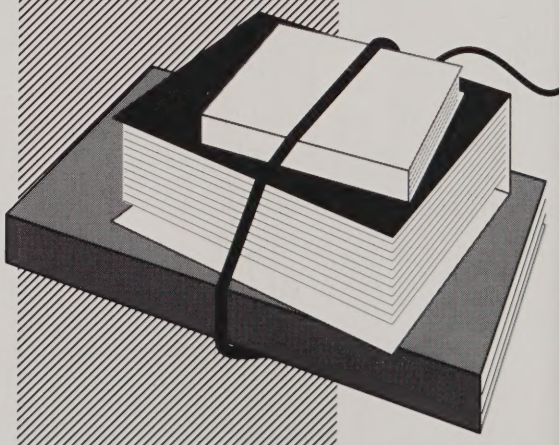
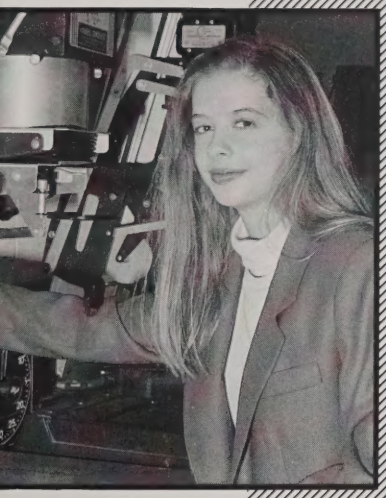
Clubs and Organizations





The 1993 Yearbook Staff has worked diligently throughout the entire school year in order to make this year's issue a great success.

Some members remained on staff from start to finish. These dedicated people helped meet deadlines, take photographs, create layouts, and filled the demands necessary in the creation of a yearbook.

Putting together a yearbook demands many hours, fortunately the students who made up the staff this year were willing to devote the time and effort needed to publish "Hours to Keep".

As co-editors we would like to thank our staff, as well as Mr. Prouty our advisor. Without his guidance the success of our yearbook would not be achieved.

Co - editors
Dina Godzik & Heidi Peek

The Junior High Student Council is one of the first groups that allows 7th and 8th graders coming to Shepherd Hill to become actively involved in their school. After being elected by their fellow classmates these students, directed by Mrs. Kokocinski, arrange for field trips such as ice skating, roller skating, and other activities such as Jr. High dances. They give much of their time and should be recognized for not only being intelligent, but also being young adults and leaders. They deserve alot of thanks and congratulation.

Anthology

Anthology started as a small publication of one English class using less than twenty pages and has escalated into a major publishing source for grades seven through twelve. Consisting of over a hundred pages, it takes staff members over three months to compile, organize and edit the materials entered. Prizes are awarded for the best poem and short story. Some student artwork is also featured throughout the publication.

The N. H. S. ran a successful Thanksgiving food drive for area families raising over $1000 and providing 30 families with full Thanksgiving meals. At Christmas we worked at a Santa Breakfast to benefit the Dudley playground recently erected at the elementary school. Throughout the year the NHS search for the qualities in their new members such as; service, leadership, character, and citizenship in jr. high students and select a "student of the week". The jr. high students should feel very proud to be nominated by their teachers and accepted by the NHS.

Ski Club

The Ski Club is a group of eighty-five students in grades seven through twelve that share a common interest in skiing. On Tuesday evenings in January and February the club takes six trips to Mount Wachusett in Princeton, Mass. The students in the club enjoy these trips. It is a great illustration of how kids can have good clean fun.

Athletic Trainers

Mr. Sendrowski has been Shepherd Hill's Athletic Trainer since the school opened in 1973. This is the third year Kristen and Robbie have been student athletic trainers. Being a student trainer is a large responsibility, especially for away games. They have done such a tremendous job that Mr. Sendrowski merely supervises their work. They have accepted and taken on most of the responsibilities involved with taking care of the athletes injuries.

Middle Row: J. Cloutier, C. Gauthier, A. Grammatikakis, M. Howard, J. Tokarz Last Row: M. Tiberii, J. Lapomardo, A. Noel, C. Webb

The Foreign Language Club attempts to increase student cultural awareness by sponsoring a trip to a foreign country. The countries that were visited this year were Spain and Morocco.

This trip gave students an opportunity to practice the language that they had been studying in the classroom, to taste foreign cuisine, manage foreign currency, to see the most scenic areas of the country, and to experience a life style in a country other than their own.

Varsity Math Team

The season started with an excellent turnout for the math team this year. There were thirty-three members under the leadership of Mrs. Barys.

We changed from Division C to Division B. This offered the team a greater challenge at the competitions. Of the 33 members only 8 were seniors. This will provide us with a good team for the next season. We are looking forward to representing Shepherd Hill next year.

Electronic Bulletin Board

The Electronic Bulletin Board staff is comprised of three students with Mr. Sherry as the supervisor. The purpose of the board is to inform students of the goings on at the Hill, including recent game scores, coming events, and other important news items that they think students should know about. Along with information students offer an assortment of entertaining graphic images that are computer generated.

Peer Helpers volunteer much of their time in both study halls and after school to help their fellow students in need with their academic studies. Volunteers complete a lengthy training process so that they can deal with and tutor students. Peer helpers also participate in trips to the Dudley and Charlton Intermediate schools to talk to the future 7th graders about high school life at the Hill.

Students Against Drunk Driving

The goal of SADD is to make high school students aware of the dangers of drinking and driving. We attempt to lessen the number of drunk driving accidents that may occur. We hand out red ribbons during national drug awareness week. These and many other ideas help make sure that students are aware of the dangers of alcohol. During the prom and Victory Dance we campaign for an alcohol free event.

Senior Chorus

The Shepherd Hill Senior Chorus is a 100 member mixed chorus open to all students in grades 9-12. In addition to performing in the annual Christmas and Spring Concerts, the musical group sponsors a "theme show" each year.

The Senior Chorus has earned recognition through their participation in National Music Festivals and have travelled to Washington, D. C., Montreal, Canada, Florida, Virginia Beach and throughout Great Britain.

Senior High Band

The Shepherd Hill Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Greg Stewart, participated in various parades for seasonal and holiday events. During the year they marched in the Little League and Memorial Day parades in both Charlton and Dudley. The Band is the official marching band that welcomes Santa to the Auburn Mall each year. They participate in the annual Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony on the Charlton common. In competition the Band has continually received gold or superior rating in all categories.

Winter Guard

Tara Diani, Kathy Brynarski, Shelly Arsenault, Missy Barrett, Kristy Currran, Sandy Huey, Kelly Khammond, Katrina Jones, Caryn Raymond, Alyssa Noel

The winter guard is a color guard that uses flags, rifles and other types of props to perform taped music inside a gymnasium. We began this group to strengthen the marching guard techniques under the direction of Linda Saad, the 1992 winter guard earned several first place awards and received a gold medal in the Percussion Ensemble and Winter Guard Championships.

Winter Percussion

Winter percussion was formed to strengthen the percussion section of the marching band. In four years time, this group has earned top honors and respect from many professional percussionists around the country. They have attained the highest ratings in New England ever awarded to a percussion ensemble, and have been invited to perform at the National Instrumental Conductor's Competition for the last two years.

The Junior High Marching Band consists of seventh and eighth graders who are being introduced to marching and playing techniques necessary to perform in field shows and parades. The many hours of practice build a strong foundation for participation in the High School Band.

Stage Band

Stage or Jazz band began nearly the day that Greg Stewart came through the doors 18 years ago. That day he announced tryouts were goind to be held and 50 students showed up.

The group has since performed at Disney & Sea Worlds, the cruise ship Bermuda Star, St. George in Bermuda, and most recently earned a gold medal at the Festival of Music at Virginia Beach.

Each year the School District manages to preserve an excellent athletic program for our students here at the Hill. As you peruse the sports section of "Hours to Keep" be mindful of this fact. Take note of the tireless efforts of coaches, officials, and most of all, students who give their all for the love of athletic competition.

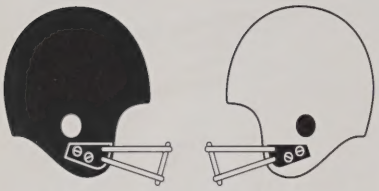
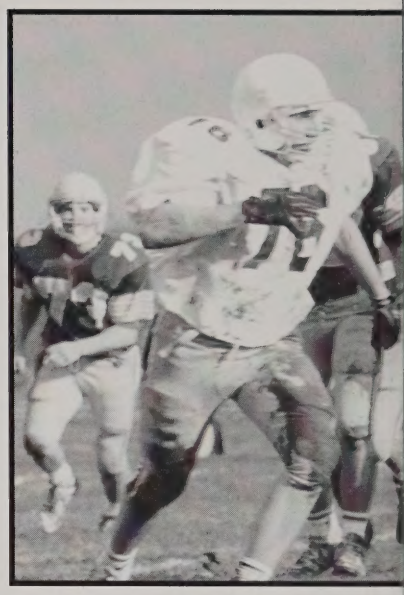
Varsity Football





The 1992 football season began with dedication, spirit, pride, and a focus on a season to be remembered. Our season opened with Worc. South; but the results came to fast as we were leading 28-0 at the end of the first quarter. As in a lesson on life so went our season; a series of ups and downs. St. Peter Marian, under poor weather conditions, made good use of the punt and kept us at the 10 yard line all day. This let St. Peter Marian (9-1) give the Rams their first defeat of the season.

The Rams came right back to win its' next two Border Conference games, defeating Southbridge & Auburn. The 5th and pivotall game with Bartlett (9-1) approached. The loss of 3 starters on both defense and offense proved to be too much to compensate for. The Super Bowl bound Bartlett was to prevail.

It was after the Athol game that the team showed its' true character. At this point it would have been easy to roll over, quit and end the season there. But the Rams went on systematically to defeat yet anothe Super Bowl contender by beatin Baypath 28-8. With this focus the played even harder to win the re maining games on the schedule.

In spite of a 7-3 record it shoul be noted that the three losses cam at the hands of teams which woul go on to secure Super Bowl berths As for a season to remember ou coaches and seniors will remembe it best, for the fine leadership of Je McNamara, Derek Koziak, an Craig Becker, our Tri-Captains.

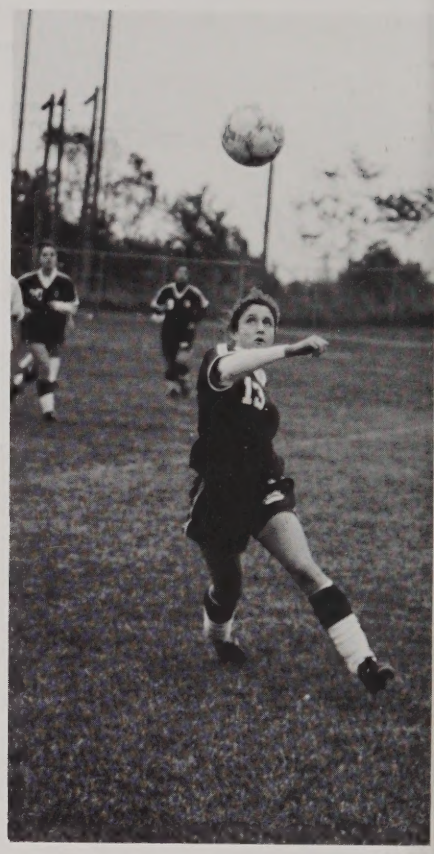
Border Conference Champs

Lady Rams



The Lady Rams, led by senior co-captains Tara Meagher and Sylvia Puchovsky, finished their season at 15-3-1. The team was very successful in the Border Conference, winning the championship for the fifth year in a row with a record of 6-0.

The Border Conference All-Stars were seniors Tara Nawrocki, Kelly Parent, Junior Maura Cushing, Sophomores Charlene Jankowski and Diana Cunkovski, seventhgrader Jen Langlois. Senior Tara Meagher received both Border Conference and Telegram & Gazette All-Star.

With hard work and dedication next year's season should be as successful and though losing many important seniors, next year should be as successful. Therefore, expecting many under classmen to shine. Good luck and have a great season.

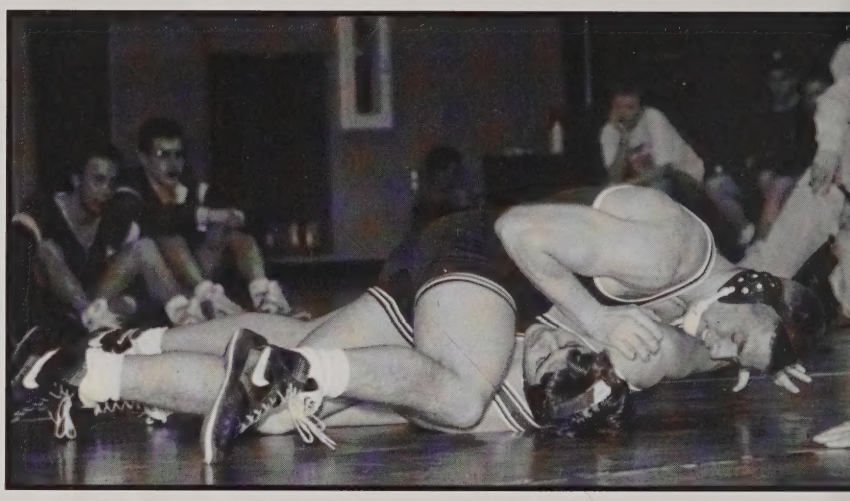
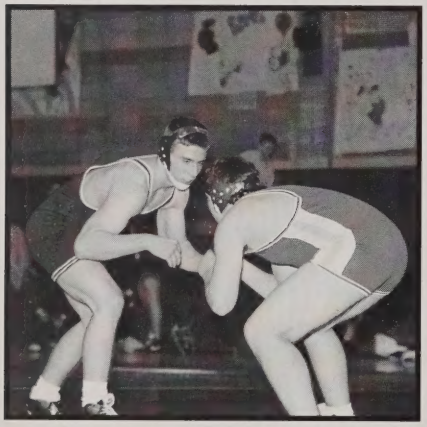
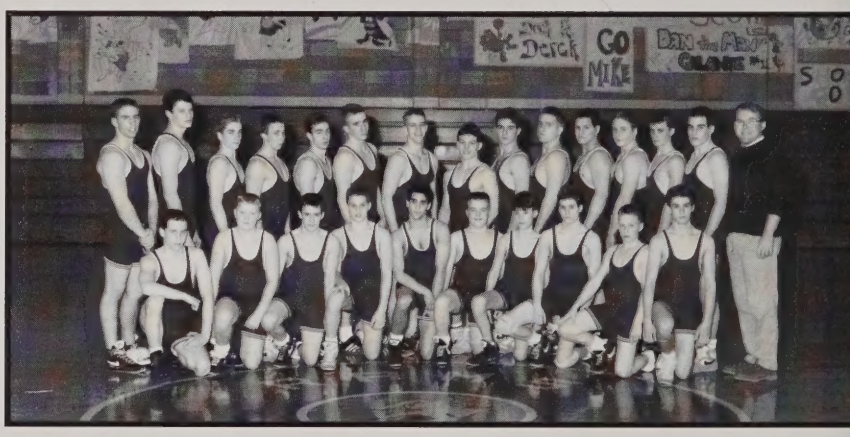
Wrestling Team

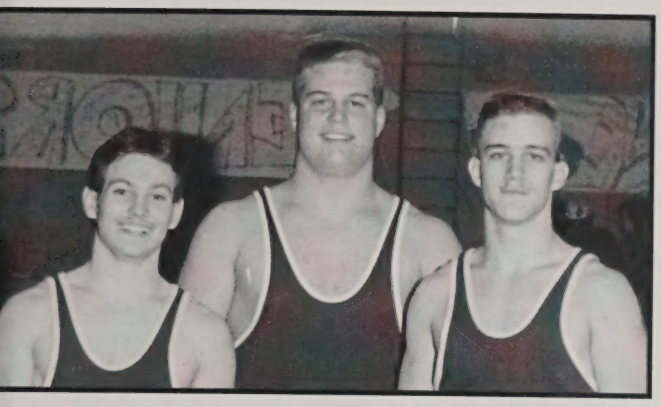
The Wrestling Squad finished the year with three impressive wins under the direction of Coach Boyd. The leadership of captains T. J. Payton, Jeff MacNamara, and Jim Horne the squad produced 3 team members who placed in the regional tournament. Jeff qualified for the state tournament.

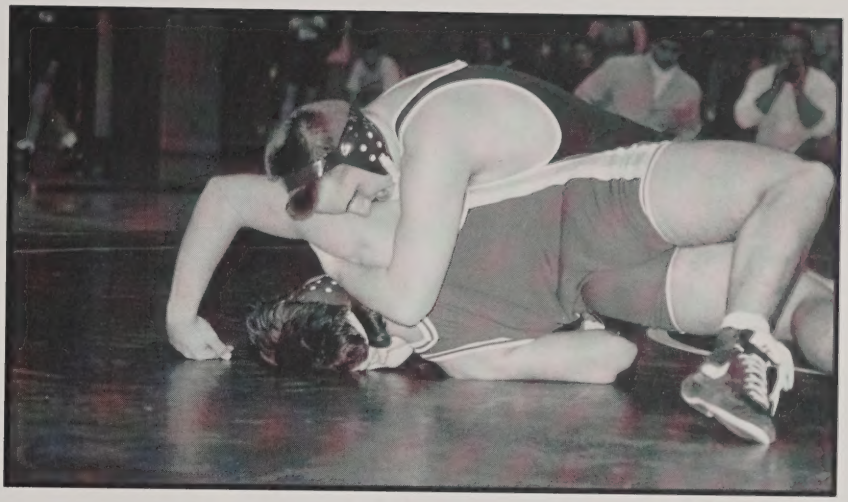


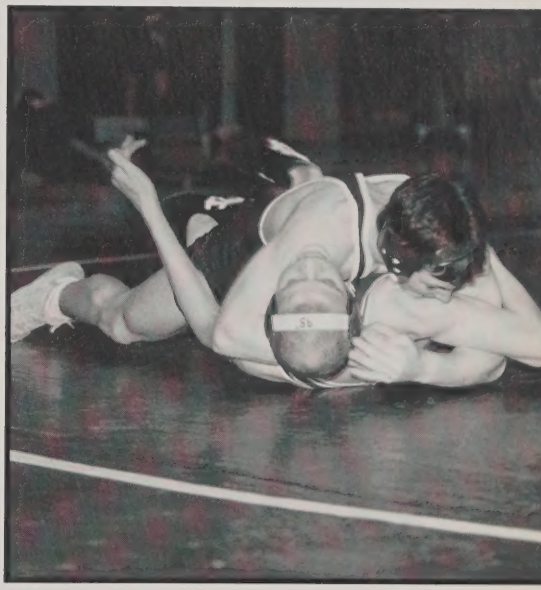




Front row: D. Stelmach, J. Brinker, D. Lawrence, J. Mrazik, M. Allard, K. Fredette, J. Oulette, C. Rose, R. Paradise, and T. Didinato. Second row: S. McNamara, R. Schubert, G. Millette, C. Moody, M. Shilale, J. Lantz, T. J. Payton, J. Horne, M. Ruskin, R. Leary, W. Lavigne, K. Lauritsen, T. Martin, J. Mrazik, and Coach Boyd.







Cheerleading

Both the Varsity and Junior Varsity cheering squads had a fun and memorable season. The hard work throughout summer and exciting preparation this fall pulled us together. Sportsmanship was a vital aspect of the squad. Bartlett has been a rival for many years. Although the pressure to win is there on both sides we wanted to show there is no malice because we all have friends that go to Bartlett. When we danced with the Bartlett cheerleaders most of the fans were confused. This was the best way to show the importantance of sportsmanship.

The last home game for the seniors brought emotions of--"the last time." This year has brought many of such emotions. The Thanksgiving pep rally gave us an important opportunity to perform for the student body and familiarize them with our cheers. We received quite the response from all grade levels. The season ended in a very soggy and muddy holiday. We were all overjoyed in the victory though. We strive for the school to be proud of us while we are proud of our teams and being part of Shepherd Hill.

Our cheerleaders raising spirits high.
